DR. LISA KANE IS A BOARD-CERTIFIED PROSTHODONTIST who's been practicing dentistry for more than 22 years. She received her dental degree from the University of Detroit Mercy in 2001 and obtained her prosthodontic specialty training in 2012 at the University of Michigan.

Dr. Kane is a recognized leader in her field, having received numerous awards and appointments. She's on staff at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, where she teaches the next generation of dentists; she's an adjunct clinical associate professor at the U-M dental school; and she maintains her private practice within Cranbrook Dental Care.

Prosthodontists receive three additional years of intensive training in the fundamentals of dentistry including implants, crowns, bridges, smile design/makeovers, dentures, partial dentures, occlusion (bite) issues, and temporomandibular disorders (TMJ). They often see some of the most challenging cases, where patients have missing and broken-down teeth, and have forgotten how to smile.

Dr. Kane works to restore what's been lost, and is very passionate about what she does, always striving for the best — and all with an artistic eye.

She was voted Top Prosthodontist in 2021 by Hour Detroit and has published many articles in leading dental journals. She also serves as president of the Michigan Section of the American College of Prosthodontists. ■
